Dear Hiring Manager,

As the Head of Product and Technology and Tim's mentor previously at GetHarley, I am pleased to write this letter in support and recommendation of Tim (Kuan Ting) Liu for the Data Analyst role he is applying for.

Tim joined a very lean team at GetHarley as a Data Analyst / Scientist. Working in a fast paced start-up environment, he got up to speed very quickly in understanding the business context and the data we have.

With this, he was entrusted with working on data analysis initiatives critical to the business. He successfully delivered improvements in a short time frame to improving the accuracy of our business KPIs reporting to our investors. He also automated and optimised the production of monthly financial and trading reports for the business and our B2B partners, improving the timeliness, accuracy and man hours previously spent by others on the team producing those reports.

Tim has been an insightful, diligent, and confident talent. During the time I've known him, Tim has always displayed a strong work ethic, highly collaborative, well-prepared, and dedicated. He quickly gained the trust of his colleagues and demonstrated leadership qualities on the projects he worked on.

With his curiosity, dedication and great enthusiasm for data science and analytics, I am confident that he will continue to grow and keep up with the best tools, programming languages and practices in the data field beyond his Masters.

He would be an excellent addition and asset to any team based on his outstanding performance at GetHarley.

Sincerely,
Min Ong
